It would take every minute of our time to draw up the papers and protect the sub-treasurer; and the judge would take all his time in entering up judgments! You go over to Augusta and pick laughter.]

FIAT MONEY-WHAT IT IS .- We remember to have seen in our youth the Government stamp upon a species of veilum, or tough, heavy paper that seemed to have been made for long use, since it was almost indestructible, and it was called "Continental money." We knew people, also, that, it was said, had bushels of it laid away. But it wouldn't float, nor even buy a breakfast for a starving man. It had always been "cheap money," but it got so cheap that nothing else was cheap enough to give in exchange for it. From 1863 to 1865 we bad in the South more cheap money that was cheap enough, in all conscience. when a bushel of corn-meal would command sixty dollars of it-a hatful of money for what would serve to feed a horse one day! And now that money, like the old "Continental," is preserved only Strange to say, many of the largest holders | dependence and a place among the greatest ernment of "rebels" that did not so succeed; yet both alike are worthless now. These issues were only "fat paper-money," which even the patriotism of our fathers of ring the fiery trials of our civil war, could not keep from ruinous depreciation while they yet served, in some degree, the uses of money .- Lynchburg Virginian.

> The word "dollar" is the name of something. That something is what the law declares it shall be. At present the law declares that that something shall be a coin of silver weighing 4121 grains and nine-tenths fine, or a coin of gold weighing 25.8 grains and nine-tenths fine. The law provides for the manufacture of gold and silver coins of the manufacture of gold and silver coins of a certain weight and fineness, and calls those coins dollars. Calling them dollars is simply giving them a name. The name might be slug, or disc, or lump, or anything else as well as dollar. Calling a thing a dollar does not change its value any more than calling a sheep's toil a leg makes it a leg.

> W. J. JENNINGS. The law might call a silver coin of 100 grains a dollar, but that would not make it of equal value with a silver coin of 4125 grains. The law might call a slip of paper a dollar, as our "fiat"-money philosophers propose that it shall, but that would not make the slip of paper worth as much as a MATTRESSES, BEDDING AND UPHOLSTERED gold coin weighing 25.8 grains .- Chicago Times.

FIAT MONEY FOR THE HEATHEN .- A certain Sabbath-school teacher was in the habit of making collections in the juvenile department of the school for missionary purposes. He was not a little surprised one day to find a counterfeit com among the pennies, and on asking the class who put it there, the youthful donor was pointed out to him by one who saw him deposit it. Did you not know that this was good for nothing?" inquired the teacher. "Yes. sir," answered the boy. "Then why did you put it in the box?" "I didn't s'pose," coolly replied the boy, "that the little hea-thens would know the difference, so I thought it would be just as good for them as a real one."

STRANGE COINCIDENCES .-- I have read a book sometime or somewhere entitled "Remarkable" or "Wonderful" Coïncidences, which pleased me very much; but the one which I am about to relate occurred in our own State, not fifty miles from here, of which I was an eye- and ear-witness. In a quiet village of Rhode Island there lives an Episcopal clergymen, who is the justly-beloved of all his parish, rich and poor, high and low, old and young. He has all the intelligence and genial nature of the Bishop, with the culture of Greer, and I was trying to name some clergyman in his diocese to whom I might compare him in modesty, but I cannot recall such an one. But our friend, like many gifted men, is sometimes a little absent-minded. Some years ago, one Sunday morning, when I was attending at his church, after he had read the service he went to the desk to commence his discourse, and at once vanished from the house. The congregation seemed instinctively to comprehend the situation. He had forgotten his sermon. He shortly returned with it in his band. Resuming his desk, out of breath, and opening the precious manuscript, he thus announced his text, Luke xv., 6: "And when he cometh bome he calleth together his friends and neighbors, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep which was lost." I think there was a smile on every face in that church except the clergyman's. Providence Journal.

PLAIN MR. GOOD ENOUGH .- The newspapers have it in their power to put an end to the whole race of scrub "Generals," "Colonels," "Majors," and "Captains" with which the country is now afflicted. They can do it by reserving military titles, as they should be reserved, for those in actual military service, and substituting "Mr." for "General," "Colonel," or "Major" as to all who are in the peaceful pursuits of life. It is impossible to distinguish the real from the bogus military people now, and the best rule would be to let the title die with the service. Plain "Mr." ought to be title exough for any good American citizen .-St. Louis Globe Democrat.

The efforts of politicians and aspirants the Rocky Mountains have been coined an & for office to convince the people of this country that a flood of irredeemable greendoes exist the application of it ought surely the act repealing the legal tender of the backs will serve as a panacea for all the ills to which humanity is subjected is both richeulous and nonsensical.
